REPORT

COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY.

STATE OF MARYLAND,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
Annapolis, January 2d, 1878.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of Maryland:

In obedience to the Constitution and Laws of the State, I transmit to your Honorable Bodies, my eighth annual report of the operations of the Treasury Department, being for the fiscal year ended 30th September, 1877.

RECEIPTS.

The total receipts into the Treasury during the fiscal year, from all sources, amounted to $2,109,193.73, and the balance in the Treasury, 30th September, 1876, was $401,434.29, making an aggregate in the Treasury during the fiscal year of $2,510,628.02.

Of the amount received during the fiscal year, $219,315.00, was from the sale of $197,000.00 of the Maryland State Loan, issued under the Act of 1872, Chapter 366, to take up the overdue debt of the State payable in London, and the sum of $51,362.64, was from the United States, in part of the war claim of the State, leaving the receipts from ordinary sources during the fiscal year to be $1,838,516.09. This sum is much less than the estimates of receipts in my last annual report.

The deficiency is owing mainly to the failure of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, to pay the accustomed dividend on the Washington Branch, and from the failure of the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies to pay the installment of interest due on the mortgage to the State, 1st July, 1877. A large deficit has accrued also to the revenue from licenses to Foreign Insurance Companies during the last two years, owing to the passage of the Act of 1876, Chapter 248; by the operation of which law, two-thirds of the revenue from this source has been cut off. The loss to the Treasury from the failure of these three items of revenue amounts at this time to upwards of $260,000, and the deficiency must be provided for by the present Legislature, or the balance in the Treasury at the end of the present fiscal year will be entirely insufficient to meet the demands of the Treasury on the first of October 1878.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The total disbursements from the Treasury during the fiscal year amounted to $2,112,646 89. The following classification will enable the General Assembly to see at a glance the character of the expenditures:

Amount paid to Agricultural Societies in the Counties, and to the State Society.....	$	6,500 00
Amount paid to Charitable Institutions.....		92,474 09
“ “ Harbor of Baltimore—Survey of.....		5,000 00
“ “ Public Buildings—Tobacco Warehouse, State House and Normal School.....		67,607 66
“ “ Public Debt, Interest on, $645,275 69 }		866,452 04
“ “ Public Debt, Redemp'n of, 221,176 35 }
“ “ Pensions.....		34,060 00
“ “ Reformatory Institutions.....		102,326 94
“ “ Special Appropriations.....		15,281 45
“ “ Schools—Colleges and Academies.....		626,122 75
“ “ Expenses of State Government, including Oyster Vessels.....		296,821 96
Total.....	$	2,112,646 89

The expenditures are given in detail in statement “B,” with the laws authorizing the same.

In addition to the above, there was expended for school purposes the income of the “Free School Fund,” amounting to $21,270.87, and for the indigent blind $17,550.00. There was also expended from the increment of the “Sinking Fund” in the purchase of State stock for said fund, the sum of $33,396.00.

After deducting the amount of $221,176.35 expended in the redemption of the overdue debt of the State in London, and for which no estimate was made in my report for 1876, the remaining expenditures amounted to $1,891,470.54, which amount approximates very closely the estimate of receipts in said report.

The balance remaining in the Treasury at the close of the fiscal year was $397,981.13. Nearly the whole of this sum was required to meet the large payments falling due by law in this, as in every year, on the first day of October, or within a few days thereafter, as follows :

Civil Officers.....	2,529 99
Judiciary.....	22,175 00
Pensions.....	7,090 00
Schools (white).....	119,617 00
Schools (colored).....	25,000 00
Interest on the Public Debt.....	157,178 07
Miscellaneous Appropriations.....	408 33
Total.....	$333,998 39

ESTIMATES.

The probable receipts into the Treasury during the current fiscal year, are estimated in statement "C," at $1,893,016.94, upon the supposition that no amount will be realized during that period from the suits pending against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, or the Northern Central Railway Company, and that no payment will be made during said time by the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Company, or by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for dividends on the stock of the State in the Washington Branch Road.

This amount added to the balance in the Treasury, 30th September, 1877, viz: $397,981.13, would make the total amount in the Treasury during the fiscal year, 1878, to be $2,290,998.07.

The probable disbursements during the same period estimated upon the supposition that only economical and necessary expenditures will be authorized by the Legislature, are given in detail in statement "D," and amount to the sum of $2,138,900.00. Should the above hypotheses turn out to be well founded, and no additional revenue be provided by law at the present session, the balance in the Treasury at the end of the current fiscal year, would be only $152,098.07, a sum entirely inadequate to meet the payments which will become due on the first day of October 1878. The Legislature will therefore perceive that unless some considerable portion of the large amounts due from Railroad Corporations can be made available, additional revenue must be supplied.

FREE SCHOOL AND SINKING FUNDS.

The condition of the Free School Fund and Sinking Fund is shown in detail in statement "E." The income of the Free School Fund for the year amounted to $21,270.87.

The York and Cumberland Bonds, in which a portion of the Free School Fund was invested, amounting to $60,500.00 having become due, payment of them was tendered and accepted by the Treasurer, and this amount is added to the receipts of said fund. There was also transferred from the Treasury to this fund, the sum of five thousand dollars, being the balance of the appropriation to the Indigent Blind, under Chapter 301, of 1874, making the total receipts for the year $86,770.87. This amount added to the balance to the credit of the fund for the Indigent Blind, on the 30th September, 1876, viz: $23,995.47, makes an aggregate of $110,766.34.

The receipts to the Free School Fund were less during the year, by the sum of $34,069.36, being the amount heretofore annually transferred to this fund, from the revenue received from the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. There being no revenue received during the year in any way from said Branch Road, the usual transfer authorized by law for this purpose, could not be made.

By the Acts of 1836, Chapter 220, and 1837, Chapter 308, a portion of the surplus revenue, deposited with the State by the United States, was directed to be placed upon interest in certain banks for the benefit of the Free School Fund, and the interest thereon amounting to $34,069.36, was directed to be applied to the support of Free Schools, and to be distributed among the several counties and the City of Baltimore.

By the Act of 1839, Chapter 33, the sums of surplus revenue thus on deposit in the Union Bank of Maryland, and Franklin Bank of Baltimore, were appropriated to the payment of the interest on the public debt, and that Act further directs that $34,069.36 yearly, of the revenue to accrue to the State from the Baltimore and Washington Road, be substituted for the interest on said sums, after deducting one thousand dollars per annum for the instruction of the Indigent Blind.

Under the terms of the Act making this substitution, I have always regarded the amount due annually to this fund, to be payable out of any revenue which might accrue to the Treasury from the Washington Branch Road, whether in the shape of dividends or under the contract for one-fifth of the receipts from passengers, but as during the last fiscal year, no revenue has been received from the Company on either of these accounts, no resource has been left to the Treasury out of which the substitution could be legally made. Provision should therefore be made for supplying the means from some other source, not only for future years, but for the past fiscal year, unless in the meantime, revenue should be received from the Washington Branch Road, out of which the same can be paid.

The disbursements from this fund, during the fiscal year, have been to the Free Public Schools in the several counties and the City of Baltimore, $21,270.87; to the Indigent Blind, $17,550.00, and for the reinvestment of the principal sum derived from the payment of the York and Cumberland bonds, $60,500.00, making an aggregate of disbursements of $99,320.87, leaving a balance to the credit of the fund for the Indigent Blind of $11,445.47.

The amount received by the Treasurer from the York and Cumberland bonds, was invested by him in the overdue sterling bonds of the State, and said bonds were afterwards exchanged by him with the Board of Public Works, for an equal amount of the preferred stock of the State in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

The various investments of the Free School Fund are given in detail in statement "F," with the amount of each.

The receipts of income to the sinking fund during the year were $5,733.69, which, added to the balance to the credit of said fund, 30th September, 1876, viz: $28,408.87, make an aggregate of $34,142.56; of this, the sum of $33,396.00 was expended in the purchase of stock of the Maryland State Loan, leaving to the credit of said fund the sum of $746.56.

The several stocks in which the sinking fund is invested, are shown in statement "F," amounting, in the aggregate, to the sum of $125, 95.84.

Statement "G." exhibits the amounts received from dividends on stock held by the State, and interest on debts due the State on bonds and mortgages, amounting in the aggregate to $190,756.70.

OYSTER FUND.

The receipts on account of the "Oyster Fund" during the fiscal year, are given in detail in statement "H," amounting in the aggregate to $51,078.76. The expenditures, detailed in same statement, amounted during the fiscal year, to the sum of $50,136.76.

The amount to the credit of the "Oyster Fund" at the close of the fiscal year was $250,824.26.

The large amount paid for salaries of the "Police Force," together with other expenses, nearly equals the receipts. It is submitted, that if the whole of this force is considered necessary by the Legislature, to protect the waters of the State from depredations by persons not entitled to catch oysters in said waters, a considerable saving might at least be made by lowering the salaries of the officers of the force, which are probably out of proportion to other salaries paid by the State. It is to be hoped that a saving may be made in some way, so as to enable the cost of licenses for dredging to be reduced. The persons engaged in the catching of oysters, have for a number of years, been poorly paid for their labor, and any thing which can be done to relieve them from unnecessary taxation, should be done. No more taxes should be imposed upon the catching of oysters, than such as are necessary to protect the waters of the State, for the benefit of the people of the State.

THE STATE'S INVESTMENTS.

Statement "I" exhibits in detail the different stocks in which the money of the State has from time to time been invested in pursuance of laws directing such investments. Of those denominated as productive, two, which have heretofore been regarded as safe and reliable, viz: the Stock of the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, and the mortgages of the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies, have failed to yield the accustomed payments, the former from the first day of April, 1875, and the latter from the first day of January, 1877. The interest on the mortgage of the Northern Central Railway Company, and on the bonds of the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad Company have been paid, as also the six per cent. dividend on the preferred stock of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. No estimates have been made in statement "C" for any receipts from the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, or the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies for the current year, the same being considered as too uncertain to be relied on by the Legislature. Additional sources of revenue will have to be provided to take the place of receipts from these investments. There is no probability that any of the stocks marked unproductive will yield any revenue during the current year.

STATE DEBT.

The amount of the Public Debt of the State at the close of the fiscal year, as shown in statement "J," was $10,758,677.69.

The amount at the close of the fiscal year, 1876, was $10,830,525.46. A typographical error occurred in the corresponding statement of last year, in the item of the defence loan, by which the aggregate of the debt at the close of that year, was incorrectly stated, the correction however, has been made in the present statement.

The debt has been diminished during the fiscal year by the sum of $308,777.77, and has been increased by the sum $236,930.00, making the actual net diminution $71,847.77. By the Act of 1872, Chapter 366, Section 4, the Governor, Comptroller and Treasurer, were directed to sell, from time to time, so much of the loan authorized by that Act, as might be necessary to pay off the bonds of the State that matured in 1865, and those that matured in 1870, when in their discretion it should seem advisable, and to the interest of the State to do so. After the passage of that Act, a large amount of the debt maturing in 1870, was exchanged for this loan, as authorized by the Act, and after inviting proposals, a sufficient amount of the loan was sold to take up the remainder of the bonds maturing in 1870. Since that time, no period has occurred, at which it was considered by the Governor, Comptroller and Treasurer, to the interest of the State to sell any portion of said loan for the purpose of redeeming the overdue sterling bonds which matured in 1865, until the last fiscal year, when the high premium offered, induced these officers to dispose of $197,000.00 of said loan, to provide for taking up an equal portion in value of said overdue debt. This sale realized to the Treasury, together with the premium thereon, the sum of $219,315.00.

On the 23d day of March, 1877, the Comptroller and Treasurer in pursuance of the Act of 1872, Chapter 276, transmitted a notice to be published in London, to the effect, that on the first day of July, 1877, they would redeem at the State's agency, in that city, the outstanding bonds of the State issued to the Susquehanna Canal Company, from No. 1 to No. 125, inclusive, and that interest on the same would cease from that day. On August 6th, 1877, a similar notice was transmitted by these officers to the effect, that on the first day of October, 1877, they would redeem at the State's agency, in London, all the outstanding bonds of the State issued to the Susquehanna Canal Company, from No. 126 to No. 483, inclusive, and that interest on the same would cease from that day. These bonds with the exception of nine, which appear by the books of the Treasurer to be outstanding, but which had not been presented for payment at the last advices received at this office from Messrs. Baring, Bros. & Company, the State's agents, in London, have been redeemed, cancelled and transmitted by express to this office, and deposited with the Treasurer of the State. These bonds have been due in London since the year 1865. The State loan, authorized by the Act of 1872, Chapter 366, has been increased for the purpose of raising the funds to take up the said overdue debt by the sum of $197,000, and for exchange as provided in the Act, by the sum of $39,930.00, making the total increase $236,930.00.

STATE LEVY.

Statement "K" exhibits the State Levy, for all purposes, for the year 1877, in the several Counties and City of Baltimore, amounting to the aggregate of $825,357.26. Of this aggregate, the levy for Public Schools amounts to $478,468.02, and for the payment of interest on the Public Debt, to the sum of $346,889.24. These are the only items for which a levy is now made by law upon the property of the State, for State purposes.

The basis of State taxation for 1877, is $478,468.28. The basis in 1876, was $429,112,418, showing an increase under the new assessment of $49,355,610.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TAX.

The receipts of the Public School Tax are given in detail in statement "L" for the several years from 1865, to 1877, together with the State levy for school purposes for each of said years. The receipts of Public School Tax for the past fiscal year have been $540,795.41. This amount is much larger than in any former year with the exception of 1875, when the collections of taxes in arrear made under the revenue measures adopted in 1874, swelled the amount to $604,713.08. The disbursements made during each of the school years, at the four annual days of apportionment prescribed by law, commencing with the first day of October in each year, are aggregated in said statement from 1865, to 1876, and the balance in the Treasury 30th September, 1877, applicable to apportionments for the school year 1877, commencing with the first apportionment on 1st October, 1877, shown to be $306,850.67. Of this balance the apportionment made on the first day of October, 1877, amounted to, white schools, $119,617.00, and to colored schools $25,000.00; total $144,617.00

The balance to the credit of Public School tax, 30th September, 1876, was.....	$303,300 01
Total receipts of School Tax during fiscal year ending 30th September, 1877.....	540,795 41
Total receipts during fiscal year 1877, and balance 30th September, 1876.....	$844,095 42
Disbursements during fiscal year 1877.	537,244 75
Balance to credit of School Tax, 30th September, 1877.....	$306,850 67

This balance of $306,850.67 includes taxes paid into the Treasury on account of the levy for 1877, and payments on account of levies of previous years received into the Treasury after the 15th day of June, 1877, said day being the last apportionment day for the school year, 1876.

On the 15th of June, 1877, the balance of all the Public School Tax which had been paid into the Treasury, and remained undistributed, was apportioned to the several counties, and the City of Baltimore, with the exception of $8,346.80, received previous to that day on the levy for 1877, and applicable by law to the school year 1877 the first apportionment whereof, was made 1st October, 1877.

With the exception of this sum of $8,346.80, the whole balance of $306,850.67 was received into the Treasury subsequent to the 15th June, 1877.

I have been thus particular in stating this account in great detail, for the reason that an erroneous opinion had obtained currency, that a balance of School Tax, amounting to a large sum, was retained in the Treasury from year to year. It has been always the practice of the Comptroller's Office, since the passage of the law originally establishing the levy of Public School Tax, to apportion on the 15th of June, which is the last apportionment day of the school year, all the Public School Tax remaining in the Treasury from all levies, except so much as may have been received before that day, on account of the levy of the current year, the first apportionment for which current year, does not take place until the first day of October in said year.

The discussion of this subject in several School Boards, and the currency given to the opinion above referred to, and which was rendered plausible, if not originally induced, by the error which had occurred, from time to time, in the publication of the statement "L" as originally constituted in 1866, and continued by alterations and additions in its numerous and complicated items from that year down to 1876, determined the Comptroller to employ a special clerk to detail all the receipts and disbursements of the School Tax from its inception in 1865, to the end of the fiscal year 1876, and to reconstruct statement "L" for the present report on a new and less complex basis, by which the receipts for each fiscal year, and the disbursements for each school year would appear in a perfectly plain and intelligible form, and to the comprehension of which no calculations, other than those furnished by the statement itself, would be necessary.—Accordingly the services of a gentleman who was known to be an expert accountant, and who understood the subject thoroughly from having been employed in the office in 1865, and for a long time afterwards, and was familiar with all the entries in the several books of the office pertaining to the receipts and disbursements of the School Tax, were employed to perform this duty. His labor resulted in the discovery that while in the matter of receipts as contained in statement “L” annexed to my report for 1876, the figures were critically correct, the items of disbursements were erroneous, and had been so to a great extent from the commencement of the table in 1866, from the fact that sundry items of disbursements were not comprehended in the amounts shown in the table, whereby the balance appearing to be in the Treasury on the 30th September, 1876, was much larger, than the real facts would justify. The statement was accordingly reconstructed on the plain and intelligible basis adopted by him, and can now be continued from year to year on that basis, with ease and intelligibility.

An impression has obtained in some of said School Boards (which has finally ripened into the filing by the School Board of Prince George’s County of a petition for a mandamus against the Comptroller, in order to obtain the judgment of the Court to the effect;) that it is the duty of the Comptroller on every apportionment day, to apportion the whole amount of School Tax which may have been received into the Treasury up to that day, and to distribute the same among the several Counties and the City of Baltimore, regardless of the year to which such School Tax is applicable, or of the ability of the Treasury to make a distribution at the next quarterly day of apportionment. Such a construction of the law, would, in my opinion, have not only a disastrous effect upon the Treasury, but also on the Public School System by making precarious and uncertain the provision for the payment of teachers which is now provided for quarterly, on or near the days of payment to such teachers, by the quarterly distributions from the State Treasury.

The Act of 1872, Chapter 377, Sub-Chapter 4, Section 5, which is the law now in force on the subject, enacts and declares that "the State School Tax and Free School Fund are primarily intended under this Act to pay the salaries of the teachers of the several counties, and to provide school books and stationery for the children of the State." The amount distributed by the State to the several Counties and City of Baltimore during the school year 1876, was, from School Tax, $537,244.75, and from the income of the school funds, $21,270.87; total $558,515.62. By an examination of the report of the State Board of Education made to the Governor for the year ending 30th September 1876, page 8, it will be seen that the total amount paid for teachers' salaries during the year, in the counties, was $598,741.97. In view of the large amount thus necessary for the payment of teachers' salaries, it is important that the means provided by the State, should be available to the County School Boards, on the several days on which the quarterly payments become due, and as there are no banks and public places of safe deposit in a large majority of the counties, the money thus to be distributed cannot be in a more safe condition to await such quarterly payments, than in the State Treasury: where, according to the construction put upon the meaning of the law by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and by every incumbent of the Comptroller's Office from the passage of the original Act, in 1865, to the present time, it was the design of the Legislature it should remain, to await the quarterly apportionments, directed by law. The clause in the Act directing the quarterly apportionments, it is believed, has been construed correctly, but to obviate any possible doubt on the subject, it should be amended at the present session so as positively, and with certainty, to provide for four quarterly payments of the school tax in sums as nearly equal as possible. The total amount paid by the State from school tax and income of the school funds, and levied by the several Counties and City of Baltimore for the year 1877, is as follows :

Amount paid by the State.....	$ 558,515 62

The amount expended during the year from the State Treasury, for all purposes, after deducting the amount distributed to the Free Public Schools, was $1,554,131.27, only exceeding the total amount for Free Public Schools, by the sum of $84.86. The large sums appropriated by the representatives of the people for schools, evince clearly the deep interest which the people take in the all-important subject of popular education, which is one of the foundation stones of the success and permanence of a free republic. By the 7th Section, of the 4th Sub-Chapter, of the Act of 1872, Chapter 377, it is provided that “the Board of County School Commissioners, shall, on or before the fifteenth day of November, in every year, make a report to the State Board of Education, in such form as may be prescribed by the latter, of the schools and all matters affecting the educational interests of the county. They shall also publish annually, in the month of November, in such form and manner as they may deem proper, a statement of their receipts and disbursements, including the money received and expended on account of text books, and a statement of the indebtedness of the Board at the close of the fiscal year, and forward a copy to the State Board of Education." No detailed statement of disbursements is required to be made, or reported to the Legislature, or to any officer of the State Government, and the annual statement of receipts and disbursements, is only required to be published in such form and manner as they may deem proper. The high character of the gentlemen now composing these several Boards, may be a sufficient guarantee of the faithful expenditure of the large sums of money coming into their hands; but it is not impossible, that at some future day, persons may attain to the position of School Commissioners, who may not be superior to other men, in their capacity to resist temptation. It would be well, therefore, perhaps, for the Legislature to throw additional guards around these disbursements, by requiring a detailed account of expenditures to be made to some department, and published for the information of the people.

By Section 6, of Sub-Chapter 12, of the same Act, additional students, beyond the number of free students provided for, are authorized to be received into the State Normal School, to the number of one hundred or more, if the capacity of the school is sufficient, who shall pay twenty-five dollars per session, and purchase their own books, but no account of the receipts from this source appears to be required by the Act.

Section 7, of the same Sub-Chapter, authorizes the establishment of Model and Experimental Primary and Grammar Schools, in connection with the State Normal School, but requires no account to be rendered of the receipts from tuition in such Model Schools, except that the teachers in such Model and Experimental Schools, shall be paid in part from the tuition fees derived from the pupils of said Model Schools. What part of the salaries of such teachers shall be paid from the tuition fees, is not prescribed.

By the 1st Section, of Sub-Chapter 12, of the same Act, it is provided that the State Board of Education shall appoint a principal of the State Normal School, at a salary of twenty-five hundred dollars per annum, but no term of office is prescribed by the Act, and no time is prescribed for the election from which the term of the office can be inferred, the only qualification being, that the principal shall not vote upon the subject of his appointment or removal. The latter provision would seem to imply a power of removal in the State Board, but such power is not expressly given in terms. These comments are made on the Act, for the purpose of showing the Legislature that it might not be out of place, if more explicit enactments should be made.

The General Assembly has at each session since, and including the session of 1872, appropriated an ascertained amount to be expended in the maintenance of Free Public Colored Schools. As no provision has been at any time made for raising any special revenue to defray this expenditure, and as the Act of 1872, Chapter 377, Sub-Chapter 19, Sections 1 and 2, prescribe that the sources of income for the State distributions to Free Public Schools, shall be the receipts from the Public School Tax, and the income of the Free School Fund, these sums have been construed to be payable only out of such income and receipts.

STATE BOUNTIES.

Statement "M" exhibits in detail, the amounts paid for State Bounties from 1864, to the end of the fiscal year, 1877, with the Acts of Assembly under which the same have been paid. The amount expended under this head, during the fiscal year, is $4,800.00.

PENSIONS.

The amount expended during the fiscal year in payment of pensions under the several Acts providing for the same, was $34,060.00, being less than that expended in 1876, by the sum of $1,980.00.

DETAILS OF REVENUE.

The accompanying tables give in detail the receipts into the Treasury, during the fiscal year, from various sources.

FROM CLERKS OF COURTS.

Table "No. 1" exhibits in detail the revenue received from Clerks of Courts, amounting to the sum of $411,777 97.

The other items contained in said table with the above, make an aggregate of $470,148.87, being somewhat less than the aggregate of 1876.

FROM REGISTERS OF WILLS.

The receipts from Registers of Wills are given in detail, in table "No. 2," amounting to $99,438.08, which is less than the receipts from the same source in 1876, by the sum of $42,962.10.

FROM COLLECTORS.

Table "No. 3" shows in detail the amounts paid into the Treasury by Collectors of State taxes during the fiscal year, making an aggregate of $810,414.85. This aggregate is larger than that of 1876, by the sum of $64,498.48, and is considerably larger than the aggregate of receipts from collectors in any former year.

FROM LICENSES TO AUCTIONEERS.

Table "No. 4," shows the receipts into the Treasury, during the fiscal year, from Licenses to Auctioneers in the City of Baltimore, amounting in the aggregate to $7,000.00, and from State licenses to Express and Telegraph Companies, amounting to $600.00, the total in said table being $7,600.00.

GROSS RECEIPTS OF RAIL ROAD COMPANIES.

Table "No. 5," shows in detail the amounts received from State Tax on the gross receipts of Railroad Companies, amounting in the aggregate to $25,596.50. The amount of interest paid into the Treasury on such taxes, was $2,498.89.

STATE TAX ON THE PUBLIC DEBT OF THE STATE AND CITY OF BALTIMORE.

The revenue from the State Tax on the taxable Public Debt of the State, and of the City of Baltimore, is given in table "No. 6," amounting to $47,760.06.

STATE TAX ON THE SHARES OF STOCK OF INCORPORATED INSTITUTIONS.

Table "No. 7" exhibits in detail, the State Tax on shares of capital stock of Incorporated Institutions received into the Treasury during the fiscal year, amounting to the aggregate of $73,320.51.

The amount of interest paid on such taxes in arrears, was $80.82. There is quite a considerable sum still due on this account, and unpaid for the current year, upon which interest will be charged after 1st January, 1878.

STATE TOBACCO INSPECTIONS.

The receipts and expenditures on account of the State Tobacco Inspections, as returned by the several inspectors, are given in detail in table "No. 8."

The gross receipts at the several warehouses, during the fiscal year, were $109,477.85.

The expenditures during the fiscal year, exclusive of the salaries of the Inspectors and Supervisor, were $102,226.39, leaving a balance of $7,251.46, which added to the amount due from Inspectors, 30th September, 1876, and paid into the Treasury during the fiscal year, viz: $9,433.90; makes a total balance of $16,685.36.

The salaries of the Inspectors and Supervisor for the year, were $15,000.00, leaving the net amount of receipts over all expenditures for the year, $1,685.36.

MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.

Table "No. 9," shows receipts from sundry officers, during the fiscal year, amounting to $26,788.41.

Of this total, the Land Office paid $1,705.95. The State Hay Scales $1,625.90. State Live Stock Scales $13,445.03. State Wharfinger $4,055.15, and the Weighers of Grain $5,956.38.

INTEREST ON ACCOUNTS.

Table "No. 10," shows the amounts paid on the accounts of sundry officers, therein named, aggregating the sum of $14,823.92.

TAXES ON PROTESTS.

The revenue from Taxes on Protests, during the fiscal year, paid by the different Notaries Public, amounted to $7,649.00, and is detailed in Table "No. 11."

By the Act of 1864, Chapter 137, Notaries in the counties were required to pay into the Treasury, one-half the amount of fees received for protests in any one year, exceeding three hundred dollars, and in the City of Baltimore one-half the amount, exceeding five hundred dollars. The Act of 1868, Chapter 259, repealed this provision, and required the payment into the Treasury by Notaries in the counties, of one-half the amount of fees exceeding three hundred and fifty dollars. As nothing was said in the Act about the Notaries in the City of Baltimore, the opinion prevailed among them, that they were still entitled to retain five hundred dollars per annum, before accounting for the one-half the fees to the State. The same opinion prevailed in the department, and settlements were made with the Notaries upon this basis.— Upon the matter coming to my attention, however, the error in the mode of settlement was pointed out, and the Notaries were informed that they still owed the State the amounts thus retained, since the passage of the last mentioned Act. The payment of so large a sum, which had been by them supposed to have been rightfully retained, will be to each of them so owing, a serious matter, and I therefore promised, before charging these amounts up to them, respectively, or proceeding by law to recover them, to submit the matter to the wisdom of the General Assembly. The effect of prosecuting these Notaries for these amounts will be disastrous to some, if not all of them, and I therefore recommend that these amounts be remitted by Act of Assembly. I further recommend, that the fees of Notaries Public be reduced upon protests, to an amount sufficient to compensate them for the work, and that the tax on protests be discontinued. When the finances of the State were severely straitened, and her officers were looking about for extraordinary resources of revenue, it may have been well enough to lay a tax of this sort, but I hardly think it desirable for a State in as comfortable a condition, financially, as Maryland is, to continue to raise revenue by levying a tax on the poor debtor who is so unfortunate as not to be able to meet his note at maturity, or upon the endorers of such debtor.

FINES AND FORFEITURES.

The amount of Fines and Forfeitures, and interest thereon, paid into the Treasury by different sheriffs, during the fiscal year, is detailed in table "No. 12," amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $6,935.44.

Special Acts of Assembly have been passed, from time to time, in various counties, devoting the Fines and Forfeitures in those counties to county objects, such as the formation of libraries, the expenses of indexing, &c., and in the City of Baltimore, authorising the sheriff to appropriate them to the payment of the expenses of attendance on the several Courts. It does not seem just to the other counties, that these special laws should be passed. It would appear to be more in consonance with the spirit of the Constitution, that a general law should be passed, either devoting the Fines and Forfeitures in all the Counties, and City of Baltimore, to county or city purposes, or what would perhaps be better, to return to the former legislation, requiring all Fines and Forfeitures to be paid into the State Treasury.

FOREIGN INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The revenue from licenses to Agents of Foreign Insurance Companies, doing business in this State, is given in detail in table "No. 13," amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $31,446.72.

The Act of 1876, Chapter 248, reducing the price of licenses from $300.00, to $100.00 per annum, and making the tax payable on the net receipts, instead of the gross receipts of these companies, has had a disastrous effect upon the revenue from this source, diminishing its amount from $72,042.15, in 1875, to $23,999.61, in 1876, and to the sum of $31,446.72, in 1877. The loss of these large sums to the Treasury, in the last two years, has been indeed serious, and with other losses, equally unexpected, will entail upon this General Assembly, the necessity of providing more revenue.

So far as this item is concerned, the best mode of effecting the remedy, will be to repeal the Act of 1876, Chapter 248, and to restore the law as it stood before the passage of that Act, or with an amendment increasing the cost of the licenses to $400.00, per annum.

Had I been consulted by the General Assembly in 1876, in regard to the expediency of the change, I should certainly have opposed the passage of the Act by which it was made. It is argued by some, that the competition encouraged by the change in the law will lessen the cost of insurance to the insured, but if the cheapening of insurance is to be done by diminishing its security and value, it cannot be wise to effect it by this means. It would appear to be more wise to discourage the admission of weak and unreliable companies into the State, by requiring such terms as would not be complied with by any but safe and reliable companies, having the character and means to insure safety to the people insured. If the benefits from the alteration of the law were to accrue entirely to the people of this State requiring insurance, and not to the companies themselves, I am satisfied those companies would not have labored so industriously to procure the passage of the Act of 1876. The estimates made in statement "C" for revenue from this source, are founded on the supposition that the law will be restored as it stood before the passage of the Act of 1876, Chapter 248.

I herewith transmit to the General Assembly, a copy of the Report of the Insurance Commissioner, showing the operations of his department for the past year, and the statistics exhibiting the status of the several Insurance Companies doing business in this State.

BALANCE OF STATE TAXES DUE AND UNPAID.

Table "No. 14" shows in detail the balance due from collectors, for the year, 1877, at the end of the fiscal year, amounting in the whole to the sum of $459,187.49.

Table "No. 15" exhibits a list of balances due the Treasury, exclusive of interest, at the end of the fiscal year, from collectors in the several Counties, and from the City of Baltimore, for a series of years, from 1843 to 1876, inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to $583,270.51, of which the sum of $384,848.17, is due from the City of Baltimore. It will be noticed that the balance due from the City of Baltimore, for the years from 1867, to 1874, are very small, and the collections in that city on the levies of 1875, 1876 and 1877 are highly satisfactory. What is to be done with the large amounts due from the city for the years previous to 1866, is for the wisdom of the Legislature to decide. Some of the amounts in this table, due from collectors in the counties, have been settled since the close of the fiscal year. The accounts of collectors, in default in the counties, have been sent to the several State's Attorneys, with instructions to enforce the payment of the same by suit.

Table "No. 16" exhibits a list of balances due, at the end of the fiscal year, from sheriffs in various counties, from 1848 to 1876, inclusive, amounting to $27,415.16, exclusive of interest.

Table "No. 17" exhibits the balances due from Clerks of Courts, Registers of Wills, and other officers therein named, at the close of the fiscal year, amounting to $87,748.30.—Several of these balances have been settled since the close of the fiscal year, and are so marked in the table.

This table also shows the ascertained, and estimated amounts due from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, at the close of the fiscal year, from the State's one-fifth of the receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch, the amount, ascertained by judgments, being $882,294.62, and the portion estimated, being $150,000.00, both amounts exclusive of interest. The judgments against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have been appealed from, and the appeals are now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Table "No. 18" exhibits in detail, the amounts due from sundry Incorporated Institutions, for State Taxes on their Capital Stock, amounting to the sum of $65,645.59 exclusive of interest.

Table "No. 19" exhibits in detail, the payments on account of special appropriations, during the fiscal year, with the Acts of Assembly, by which they have been respectively directed to be made, amounting in the aggregate to $15,281.45.

NEW ASSESSMENT.

Table "No. 21" exhibits, under appropriate heads, the amount of the valuations of property in the several Counties, and City of Baltimore, made by the Assessors, and Boards of Control and Review, in pursuance of the Act of January Session, 1876, Chapter 260, as returned to the County Commissioners, and Appeal Tax Court, and transmitted to the Comptroller, as required by the 34th Section of said Act, to be reported to the General Assembly; together with the valuation of the property of Railroad Companies, in the several Counties, and City of Baltimore, made by the County Commissioners, and Appeal Tax Court, in pursuance of the Act of 1876, Chapter 159. The aggregate valuations thus returned, are—

Real Property and Improvements.....	$361,857,517 94
Personal Property.....	110,616,699 73
Shares of Stock of Corporations in this State, and Bonds of such Corporations.....	49,037,401 90
Railroad Property.....	25,532,650 84
Total valuation of Property in the State.....	$547,044,270 41

This total valuation is larger than that made and returned under the Act of 1866, Chapter 157, and 1867, Chapter 341, by the sum of $54,990,798.41, including the valuation of the property of Railroad Companies, and excluding the amount of Railroad property, is larger than that of 1866, by the sum $29,458,147.57.

This result is as large as could have been expected, considering the shrinkage in values of property, and investments throughout the country, and the immense amounts of capital in this State absorbed in mortgage debts, which since the Act of 1870, Chapter 394, have been free from the imposition of any kind of tax.

In my opinion, it would be wise for the General Assembly to inaugurate a system, by means of which the basis of assessment may be annually corrected and perfected, so as to dispense in future with the labor and expense of general revaluations. The system of decennial valuations, has seldom, if ever, failed to create dissatisfaction, and frequently works hardship and injustice upon numbers of the taxpayers. So generally has this been the case, that the system has been abolished in several of the States, and a plan of annual corrections, by trained officers, skilled by education, and practice in arriving at true and impartial valuations, has been adopted. This is notably the case in the States of New York and Massachusetts, both of which States were visited by me during the past summer, with a view to learn as much as possible of the practical operation of the plan adopted in those States. The plan adopted in Massachusetts, I have no doubt, is the most perfect of any system in the country. I conferred fully with the authorities of the State of Massachusetts, and the City of Boston, and found that they regarded the system of ten year general assessments as obsolete and unworthy of consideration. The annual correction is in their judgment, after many years experience, the only one which can be considered as approaching perfection, or that can be relied on to do justice and maintain the equality of taxation. I have devoted much time and study to the details of the system adopted in that State, and think some of its features may be introduced in Maryland, with the effect of producing equality of taxation, and at the same time a saving of expense.—The amounts expended by the State, and by the several Counties and City of Baltimore, in making the general assessment under the Act of 1876, Chapter 260, were as follows :

Amt. expended by the State in Printing Blanks, Books, &c.	$	7,497	92

Total cost of making the Assessment.....$237,425 04

A comparatively trifling annual expenditure over that now made in the several Counties and City of Baltimore, will it is believed, be sufficient to effect an annual correction of the basis of assessment by practical officers, and obviate the expense and inconvenience of periodical general assessments.

A defect has always existed in the laws in this State regulating the taxation of corporations. As the law requires the shares of stock to be assessed, it frequently happens that a corporation owns real estate in a County, or in the City of Baltimore, and the owners of the shares of stock all reside elsewhere. The effect of the operation of the law in such cases, is to take from the county or city where the real estate is located, all benefits from such property for the purposes of taxation. This defect can be easily remedied by requiring all real estate belonging to corporations to be taxed, to the company owning the same, in the place where located, and requiring the State and county taxes to be paid on such property by the corporation. The value of all such property when assessed, can be deducted from the aggregate value of the shares of stock of the corporations, and in this way complete justice be done to all parties and localities.

The taxes on the shares of stock of every corporation, for county and municipal as well as State purposes, should be paid by the corporation. This would obviate all the trouble of ascertaining the residence of the owners of such shares, and would enable the authorities to settle the taxes with the proper officer of the corporation in all cases.

The duties of the Comptroller previously heavy as compared with those of other officers, have been doubled since the year 1872. By the legislation of that year it was made the duty of that officer to assess the shares of capital stock of all banks and other corporations in the State. To perform this duty with absolute accuracy, is by itself a sufficient task for one officer. While this duty should be performed by a State officer, it ought not to devolve upon the Comptroller.

To superintend the collection and disbursement of the revenue, will entail sufficient labor on the office to occupy the Comptroller all the time with advantage to the State.— At the same time to the duty of assessing the shares of stock of corporations in the hands of another officer might be added a general supervision of the assessment of property, the operation of which would tend largely to the accomplishment of a successful annual correction of the basis of taxation, and may be made to work a large saving of expense to the State, as well as to the several Counties and City of Baltimore.

A bill to remedy these defects, and to originate a system for the annual correction of the basis of assessment, will be presented to the General Assembly at the present session for its consideration. It is believed that by the adoption of the plan proposed, a large saving of expense to the Counties and City of Baltimore may be attained, and the basis of taxation kept in a more perfect and satisfactory manner, both to the authorities and tax-payers.

TAXATION OF MORTGAGE DEBTS.

By the 15th Article of the Declaration of Rights, it is ordained as a fundamental principle in regard to taxation, that "every person in the State, or holding property therein, ought to contribute his proportion of public taxes for the support of the Government, according to his actual worth, in real and personal property."

No power is given to the Legislature to vary or restrict this rule in any event, or to grant the extraordinary privilege of exemption from taxation, to any person or class of persons, or to the holders of any species of property.

By the Act of 1835, Chapter 395, the faith of the State is specially pledged to the holders of the bonds proposed to be issued by the State for the benefit of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company, the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies, the Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad Company and the Eastern Shore Railroad Company, that if it should at any time become necessary, to levy a direct tax for the purpose of enabling the State to discharge the interest accruing on said bonds, that then and in that case, every variety of property in the State, including mortgage debts by name, shall be taxed for that purpose. Accordingly, when such legislation became necessary, all debts bearing interest, including mortgage debts, were directed to be assessed, (as in fact they had uniformly been previously,) and this provision of law obtained until the Act of 1867, Chapter 341, which exempted "mortgage debts to secure the payment of the purchase money of real estate, and the Act of 1870, Chapter 394, which exempted mortgage debts from taxation altogether. This Act has always been considered by a large proportion of the taxpayers of the State as an unequal and unjust measure, giving to capitalists investing in that sort of security an improper advantage over the holders of other property. This abatement of so large a portion of the personal property from the tax-books, could not fail to have the effect, to materially increase the burdens of those owning property of other descriptions, not thus favored. This effect has been continually increased by the eagerness of capitalists to avail themselves of this exemption, by procuring mortgages to cover all debts due them, not so much for the purpose of additional security to the debts, as for the express and avowed purpose of freeing themselves from the burdens of taxation.

By the legislation of the State since 1870, the State has established the anomaly, that while the capitalist whose means are invested in obligations not secured by mortgage, is to be taxed according to the true value of those obligations, yet immediately he may obtain the additional guarantee of a mortgage, to give the investments increased value and security, he shall become, ipso facto, free from taxation, as to such investments. Why the capitalist who is thus fortunate in having his means invested, so as to possess the greatest possible security for the prompt payment of his interest and principal, should be thus favored over his neighbor, whose investments are not thus safely guaranteed, is the question to be answered. One of the arguments used ordinarily by the advocates of this special privilege, is that as the property mortgaged is taxed, the taxation of the mortgage debt, for the payment of which the property is pledged, would be a double taxation. We will suppose the case of nothing but real property. The holder of such property is taxed, and must be taxed for the full value, whether he owes more than the property is worth or not, as no sovereignty could afford to let such considerations operate in derogation of the taxing power on all the lands held by its citizens or subjects. The owner of debts due from such holder, but not secured by the pledge of his realty, is taxed for the value of such debts, but the owner of those debts which are thus secured, is free from taxation as to such debts. The holder of the property owes both debts; and if the taxing of the debt is a double taxation in the one case, why not in the other? The debt is the property of the creditor, in either case, and the interest accruing from it, is his income in the one case as well as the other. It is not the property of the debtor in either case, and he can only be interested in the taxation of that debt, by an engagement to pay such taxes as may be levied upon it, or by the exaction of a greater amount of interest by the creditor, to meet such taxation. This he may do, if he chooses, in either case, but cannot be forced to do, at all. If the capitalist really desired the immunity from taxation for the benefit of the debtor, would he not, when the immunity is granted, at once consent to reduce the amount of interest to the extent of the taxes? But, who has ever heard of an instance, where a creditor, upon the passage of the Act of 1870, has called his debtors together, and bid them write down a lesser amount of interest? Every person according to the Bill of Rights, is to be taxed, in proportion to his ability to pay taxes from the possession of property. The owner of the mortgage debt has ability to pay taxes by reason of the income of the debt, and the owner of the property has ability to pay taxes not only by reason of the possession of the property, but also by reason of his possession of the money, borrowed on the pledge of the property. He cannot, however, be compelled to pay any portion of the taxes imposed on the debt, unless he agrees to do it, and he can agree to pay an equal amount in addition to the lawful interest, whether the debt is secured by mortgage or not, and the probability is, that he will be governed by the prospect of gain from the use of the money, or by his necessities, in the one case as well as the other. But it is urged, that unless this extraordinary inducement is granted by the State, to capitalists to lend upon mortgage, they will decline to do so, but will lend upon some other security; and that the farmer or householder willing consequence, be cut off from any prospect of borrowing on the faith of his property. The Legislature may well consider this point, when presented in a petition to this effect, from the farmers and householders of the State, but as long as the argument is used only by capitalists who lend upon mortgage, it should have but little weight. The farmer and householder is interested on the other side, because he knows, that if the capitalist who lends upon mortgage is granted the privilege of exemption from taxation, the amount of taxes from which such capitalist is relieved, must become chargeable to the owners of other properties not thus favored, and he further knows; that although others may evade or escape taxation, the owner of real estate cannot do so. The fact that so much interest bearing capital, escapes taxation, has depressed, and will continue to depress the value of real estate, and make that property an undesirable investment.

But if the lender upon mortgage must be exempt, for fear he will oppress the mortgagor, why not exempt the lender upon judgment who also has a lien on his debtor's realty? Why not exempt the capitalist who invests in lands and houses, in order to prevent him from oppressing his tenants with heavy rents? Or why not exempt real estate altogether, and by that means ensure and accelerate the speedy occupation of all the lands, and multiply the population and resources of the State?

As these alternatives are impracticable, justice to the owners of other property requires, that mortgage debts should be taxed at their value, as all other productive property. If the Legislature will be governed by the interest and wishes of the land-owner, they will at once subject the millions of mortgage debts in the state, to taxation. This policy, if carried into effect, will go far to relieve the Legislature from the necessity of increasing the rate of direct taxation.

TAXATION OF RAIL ROAD COMPANIES.

The validity of the law imposing a tax on the gross receipts of Railroad Companies working their roads by steam power, has been established by the Court of Appeals, in the cases of the Stats vs. the Northern Central Railway Company, and the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Com- pany. The indebtedness in arrear from the latter Company, has been settled with the Treasurer. In the case of the Northern Central Railway Company, the Court of Appeals reversed the decision of the Superior Court of Baltimore City, and remanded the cause to that Court for a new trial, in order that the amount due the State may be ascertained. The cause is still pending in the Superior Court, and no receipts from that company will probably be had, until its final adjudication. The cases against the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the Western Maryland Railroad Company, have not yet been settled.—The case against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, is now pending in the Court of Appeals. A case is also pending in the Court of Appeals, brought by the County Commissioners of Anne Arundel county, against the Annapolis and Elk Ridge Railroad Company, the decision of which will probably go far to obviate the necessity of an action by the State against that company. Some of the other Railroad Companies are in default for non payment at maturity, but I am not advised that any others are disposed to resist the collection of the tax.

The failure of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, for upwards of two years to settle any portion of the large amount due the State, under the contract for one-fifth receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch, or to pay the dividend on the stock of the State in that Branch Road, or any sum on account of the amount due for taxes on the gross receipts of the company, has occasioned a loss to the State Treasury which has been seriously felt. That the people of the State, will require that this corporation shall be forced to fulfil its obligations to the State, is beyond doubt.

Although many years ago, when the question, involved had been mooted to only an inconsiderable extent, the Court of Appeals of Maryland, decided, that notwithstanding the restriction in the 15th Article of the Declaration of Rights, the Legislature did possess the power to exempt from taxation the shares of stock of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company yet in view of the recent decisions in the Supreme Court of the United States, it can hardly be anticipated that the Court of Appeals, will at this day, determine that all the vast property of that corporation now in its possession, or hereafter to be acquired, is beyond the taxing power of the State.

But whatever may be the decision in the case now pending, the State has an unquestionable source of revenue in the contract of the company, to pay one fifth its receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch Road, to the State Treasury. This source of revenue will become doubly valuable, in the event of the Court deciding contrary to anticipation, that the sovereign power of the State has been parted with for ever, so far as the property of that company is concerned. In such event it will not be in the power of the Legislature, without doing violence to the rights of the people, to concede any relaxation of the terms of that contract, unless the obligation by the company to pay such reasonable taxes as are imposed upon similar companies by the laws, is first incorporated in their charter, and accepted by the company.

Desirable as it may be, in view of the State having chartered a rival company without requiring a corresponding payment of part of its profits, that this contract should be reformed or annulled, yet no Legislature could consistently consider such a proposition, until the rights of the State and the sovereignty of the State, are otherwise vindicated. It is clearly the duty of the General Assembly, therefore, to keep inviolate the present power of the State over the company, unless the company shall agree to give up the claim to immunity from taxation, claimed under the unfortunate legislation of 1826. I cannot too forcibly impress upon the Legislature, the great danger of considering for a moment, any proposition which might involve irretrievable mischief to the welfare of the State in some future time. Although the tax on gross receipts is of necessity small at this day, from the fact that the tax must be equal upon all the roads, and a larger rate might be oppressive, and ruinous to some of the smaller companies, yet reasonable as the tax is, if it is all that the State finds it proper to impose, the payment of it, is a fulfilment of the obligation of the company to contribute to the support of the government and to obey the laws in that regard. This tax, although small, now under the pressure of depressed commerce, and the deranged condition of the business of the country, will yield a handsome revenue, whenever wise, patriotic and practical counsels in our national affairs shall have restored prosperity to the country, opened the channels of trade, and rendered the internal commerce of the States brisk and remunerative. If, however, the Court of Appeals shall, as is expected, decide that, notwithstanding the exemption granted to the stockholders, the corporation must pay the taxes imposed upon it by law, and this decision is acquiesced in without further contest, the way may be plain to a satisfactory adjustment of all the questions which have formerly been at issue between the State and the Company.

The Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company, the Eastern Shore Railroad Company, and other companies mentioned in Table No. 5, have paid the taxes on their gross receipts for the several years they have been due. Suits have been ordered against other railroad companies now in arrears, to recover the taxes due from them.

DEFICIENCY IN THE REVENUE.

The deficiency which must accrue to the Treasury during the current year, unless remedied in some way, will embarrass all the financial operations of the State. The loss to the treasury from the failure of accustomed receipts amounts at this time to upwards of $260,000. Should this amount of revenue be at once realized from the payment of any of the large amounts due the State, and a certainty of the payment during the current year of any amount equal to the usual dividend heretofore made on the stock of the State in the Washington Branch road, and the amount due for the year from the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies, no increase of the rate of taxation will be necessary, unless larger appropriations should be made by the Legislature than have been estimated for. Should no such receipts be realized, however, provision will have to be made at once to supply the deficiency caused by these failures, and new taxes must be imposed to supply the place of the revenue formerly received from these sources.

I have requested the Attorney General to take such steps as will enforce payment of the interest due on the mortgages of the Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies, but it is feared, that no recovery can be had in time to avail the Treasury during the present, or perhaps the next fiscal year.

The restoration of the law in regard to licenses to agents of Foreign Insurance Companies as it stood previous to 1876, and the enactment of a law restoring the taxation of mortgage debts either as it existed previous to the Act of 1867, Chapter 341, or as it existed previous to the passage of the Act of 1870, Chapter 394, would go far towards supplying the deficiency, and would render the increase in the rate of State levy, which would be requisite, comparatively small.

Much may be done by the General Assembly also, to curtail expenditures, by economy in expenses and by limiting the appropriations in aid of societies and corporations, to those of unquestioned merit and usefulness.

In view of the embarrassed condition of the business affairs of the people, by reason of the failure of commerce, and the general lack of profit in all practical operations, I cannot too strongly urge upon the Legislature the exercise of the strictest economy in the expenditure of the public money.

NEW TOBACCO WAREHOUSES.

The new Tobacco Warehouses, the erection of which was by the Act of 1876, Chapter 316, committed to the Governor, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney General and Supervisor of Warehouses, on the site of the tobacco warehouses destroyed by fire in 1875, have been completed, and are now employed for the storage and inspection of tobacco. The building is divided by a thick wall, so as to be used for two separate houses. The capacity of each of the houses is large, and the building substantial and safe. The total cost of the two houses was $56,229.78, which is considerably less than the amount appropriated.

By the Act of 1876, Chapter 333, the Comptroller was directed "to audit and settle the claims of the late clerks of tobacco warehouse number one, destroyed by fire," &c. Claims have been filed by two of the clerks, viz, Jeremiah Kenney and Thomas J. Talbot, accompanied with proof of services performed, &c., but no definite action was arrived at, until since the close of the fiscal year. These claims have been since audited and paid, the claim of the former to the amount of $600.00, and that of the latter to the amount of $498.00.

STATE HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

This institution which has been in progress of erection for some time, was completed and handed over to the Board of Public Works and Attorney General on the 13th of November last. It is a commodious structure and is believed to be one of the strongest and most substantial prison buildings in the United States.

The structure consists of the main building and one wing, being so built as to admit of the addition of another wing, when the demand for it shall become apparent. It is not believed to be necessary that the Legislature should contract another debt, to enlarge it at the present time.

Nearly the whole of the proceeds of the loan authorized for the purpose, together with the money received from the policy of insurance on the dwelling house on the premises, which was destroyed by fire, has been exhausted in its erection, and the small balance yet in the Treasury, on this account, will be required to settle some outstanding expenses. A considerable sum will be necessary to furnish the building and provide heat, water and light, so as to fit the institution for the reception of prisoners.

REPAIRS ON THE STATE HOUSE.

By the Act of 1876, Chapter 194, appropriations were made for sundry repairs on the State House, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $32,000.00. These repairs, which by the Act were placed under the control of the Board of Public Works, were commenced in the spring of 1877.

The repairs had hardly commenced, before it was ascertained by the architect, that the foundation of the building was insecure, and that other repairs would be necessary besides those contemplated in the act. To attempt to repair the building without securing the foundation, would have been unwise, and therefore the Board thought it indispensable that this should be effectively done.

The work when commenced had of necessity to be completed, at least so far as to provide for the occupation of the building, by the General Assembly, the Executive and the Court of Appeals. The amount appropriated has been nearly all expended, and a large balance will be necessary to pay for work already done. A new roof has been put on the building of slate, and a thorough heating apparatus has been placed in the cellar, which was excavated for the purpose.

As is known to the General Assembly, the duties of the Comptroller's Office, do not admit of the incumbent, devoting much time to any work not transacted in his office, and the Comptroller has therefore been able to give but little of his attention to the details of these repairs. His Excellency the Governor, has felt a very deep interest in the repairs, and has taken the oversight of the details of repairing, ornamenting and furnishing the building. This kindness on his part, has very much relieved the Comptroller, and to some extent the Treasurer, the latter officer however, being able to devote much more time to the supervision of the work, than was within the power of the Comptroller.

The enhanced comfort of the legislative halls, and other departments, will commend the work to the approbation of the Legislature.

Upon the eve of retiring from the office, which I have occupied for so long a time, it is proper that I should renew the request made to the Legislature of 1875, that the several items of expenditure and the vouchers therefor, should be carefully examined and reported upon by a committee.— Especially is this necessary as to all items of expenditure, which have occurred since the examination and report made by the committee of the last General Assembly. The importance of such action appears to have been appreciated by the framers of the Constitution, the provisions of which require the appointment of a joint committee for such purposes, by the two houses at each session. Justice to the Comptroller also, requires that this duty should not be neglected.

At the close of my administration, I take pleasure in adverting to the reforms which have been inaugurated in the revenue laws during the past eight years. The revenue from collecting officers has reached the Treasury with greater precision, in 1877, than in any former year. The receipts from collectors have been highly satisfactory, approximating closely the total amount of the levy for the year, and largely exceeding the total amount of the levy for 1876. The payments by Clerks and Registers of Wills have been made with unequalled punctuality. Large amounts which had been considered irrecoverable have been realized to the Treasury. The greater portion of the sterling debt of the State which has been overdue since 1865, has been redeemed and cancelled, and steps have been taken, looking to the redemption of the balance of such overdue debt during the current year.— Many of the old accounts on the books of the office have been brought to settlement, and much of the indebtedness of corporations to the State has been reduced to judgments, and will in a short time be available to the Treasury.— The National Banks throughout the State, are now quietly paying their taxes, and the increase in the amount received from other corporations has been large. The taxation of Railroad Companies has been put into operation, and bids fair to aid with other measures in the equalization of taxation. Still further reforms which experience has demonstrated may be useful, will be proposed at the present session.

I feel conscious that I can justly carry with me into retirement, the pleasing conviction that I have served the State with zeal, fidelity and devotion to her interests, and I am proud to hope and believe that this consciousness is shared by the General Assembly, and by the people of the State.

I congratulate the people of the State, and the Legislature that I am to be succeeded by a gentleman of such high standing for ability and integrity, and whose efforts for the promotion of the welfare of the State can be safely relied on.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVIN WOOLFORD,

Comptroller of the Treasury.
